

RECRUIT TALENTS:

MAKE YOUR COMPANY NUMBER ONE FOR TOMORROW'S EXPERTS!

HIGH POTENTIAL DAYS 2024

Ahead of the competition: Demonstrate why employees with high potential cannot ignore your company!

In the “talent acquisition”, it’s all about convincing the best experts of today and tomorrow to join you. As the unchallenged global trade fair champions, VALVE WORLD EXPO is the perfect event to awe smart “newcomer minds” using the right measures!

Young professionals

Be the first to recruit young talents with extraordinary potential and initial job experience who demonstrate above-average competence.

Students and trainees

This target group needs to be contacted as early as possible to ensure that your company is in the best position and well prepared for the future. This is not just about making your industry and expertise appealing: Issues like sustainability, opportunities for further development and promotions are very important, too.

Visitors looking to improve their career

Experts with several years of professional experience are also welcome at the High Potential Days, because potential is not a question of age.

Use your platform at the world’s leading trade fair VALVE WORLD EXPO as a top company at the High Potential Days 2024!

Make the most of our offer to position yourself as an employer at VALVE WORLD EXPO — with great benefits with attractive terms.

Your advantages of the High Potential Days package:

1. Digital profile

You will have the opportunity to receive a digital career profile to present yourself on our website as part of the initiative.

2. High potential job trails

Present your company close-up — with digitally supported tours that stop by your trade fair booth. We recommend that you assign at least one HR representative as well as one trainee or high potential available.

3. Live job walls

Offer attractive prospects for joining your company and career opportunities on site on a live job wall, as well as on an exclusive job wall on our trade fair web pages.

4. Your plus for recruiting

Promote the High Potential Days during all your recruiting activities as a special opportunity to get to know each other personally — from the vacancy notice to your career website.

Your conference ticket

You will receive an exclusive ticket to the Young Engineers program of our partner KCI, organizer of the Valve World Conference, on 04 December.

€ 499.00 plus VAT
