Press Release

Trade fair business in Russia continues to pick up: mining industry meets at UGOL ROSSII & MINING, NEDRA ROSSII and SAFETY & HEALTH live in Novokuznetsk

After a successful NEFTEGAZ in Moscow, the 29th edition of UGOL ROSSII & MINING, the leading trade fair for the Russian coal industry in Novokuznetsk, sends out another positive signal for the trade fair industry as a whole from 1 to 4 June 2021: despite COVID restrictions the exhibition centre Kuzbasskaya Yarmarka will again become the powerful business platform for all top-notch decision makers in the Russian mining industry. The ranges on show cover the complete cross-section of mining: from exploitation to processing the approximately 360 exhibitors from 12 countries will showcase their innovations, technologies and equipment on more than 12,400 square metres. Held in parallel with the trade fairs NEDRA ROSSII – 6th International Trade Fair for Exploitation, Processing and Refining of Ores and Industrial Minerals – and SAFETY & HEALTH – 11th International Trade Fair for Occupational Safety and Mining Safety – the ranges will be extended to include the preparation and refining of ores and occupational health and safety in mining.

The organisers are looking to the re-start of trade fairs and the 29th edition of UGOL ROSSII & MINING with optimism: “The effects of COVID-19 present the exhibition business and the industry with huge challenges. All the more this is why we and our partner Kuzbasskaya Jarmarka are looking forward to the trade fairs and the personal exchange with representatives from all areas of the industry. Registration numbers show that our customers find it enormously important to attend physically in Novokuznetsk even though travel conditions remain difficult. These numbers have been facilitated by a proven, successful hygiene and infection protection concept, because the health and safety of our trade visitors and exhibitors is, of course, our top priority,” says

In addition to an international participation for UGOL ROSSII & MINING Messe Düsseldorf Group also organises an official German joint stand supported by the German Engineering Federation VDMA. Numerous participating companies, also including first-time exhibitors, are thus enabled to position their innovations under one roof at favourable terms and to strengthen their position on the growth market that is Russia. The trade fair trio will again offer their trade visitors – who predominantly hail from Russia and the neighbouring regions – a high-quality programme of side events packed with highlights fostering knowledge transfer.

This leading trade fair is organised by Messe Düsseldorf, its subsidiary Messe Düsseldorf Moscow and the local partner Kuzbasskaya Yarmarka.

The organiser of Kuzbasskaya Yarmarka has worked out a hygiene and infection protection concept based on the current Corona Protection Ordinance in order to ensure all required health precautions and distancing rules at all forthcoming events are met. Wider aisles and entrance areas as well as a thoroughly researched routing make for easy compliance with the minimum distance of 1.5 m. A high number of sanitizer dispensers were installed.
